■ COMPANY PROFILE

ABOUT US

Growing economies are often associated with constant pressure on businesses, large or small alike, to keep pace with growth rate. The complexity associated with this growth requires specific expert knowledge in addressing business challenges. In such business environment to maintain leadership position, business executives are increasingly turning to external experts for advice.

Nextstra™ Consulting has been founded as a management consulting firm aspiring to become a trusted advisor to the CXO community. Based in Pune India, it has been founded by two industry experts, having extensive global experience in business and technology functions. This unique combination of expertise across various business functions & technology domain makes Nextstra a capable innovative consulting firm. Nextstra's vision is to create a global community of experts by collaborating across business entities (employees, business partners and customers).

The name Nextstra is derived from Next Generation Strategic Consulting Solutions. Our corporate identity has been carefully designed to demonstrate sensitivity to the environment (GREEN), and assisting businesses to prosper (GOLDEN).
